Trade School Scholarship Award Application

The Nevada Heritage Foundation is an organization that supports education of Nevada's youth in agricultural related fields. The Foundation has developed a scholarship for those graduating from a Nevada high school and going into a trade to support agriculture or students already pursuing a trade to support agriculture. A candidate must be from a Nevada Farm Bureau member family. Types of trades supporting agriculture may include veterinary technology, welding and fabrication, trucking and transportation, agriculture business, horticulture, irrigation technician, animal health worker, dairy farm supervisor, and others. A strong scholarship applicant will demonstrate how their trade supports the agriculture industry and producers. The scholarship committee desires to provide financial assistance to students who exemplifies dedication to the agricultural industry.

Amount: Up to $2,000 award will be available.

Posting date: February 1st – March 1st

Application submission deadline: April 1st

Who may apply: The scholarship award is available to any student graduating from a Nevada high school and going into a trade to support agriculture or students already pursuing a trade to support agriculture. The candidate must be from a Nevada Farm Bureau member family.
